Dear Father,

What does it mean to be an Orthodox young adult? How can we inspire Orthodox young adults to engage more deeply in our communities? Let's find out together.

The Telos Project, a new initiative at Hellenic College Holy Cross, is seeking 14 Orthodox pilot parishes to help transform young adult ministry. Building on the success of its CrossRoad Summer Institute, the Office of Vocation & Ministry's Telos Project will support each pilot parish with an annual learning conference, webinars, and other resources as they design new ways of engaging young adults. Telos Project findings will then be shared with the Orthodox community at large.

Apply today to be a pilot parish! For more information, see the enclosed information card and visit us online at www.teloscommunity.org. Applications are due June 15th, 2017.

Together, we can find new ways of connecting young adults to the Orthodox Church!

In Christ,

Elyse Buffenbarger
Telos Project Director
